

I believe you should keep the Do Not Call law. This adds to the quality of family time if anyone bothers to have any these days. It also cuts down on the amount of scams people could be involved in. Some people may be vulnerable to any type of sales over the phone even when it is not necessary for them.